

Mission

Collaborate with parents to educate and biblically anchor students.

Vision

Servant leaders who love God, His Word, and lifelong learning.

Core Values

- God's Absolute Truth: the foundation of all learning and discernment
- Love for God: a personal, true relationship with Jesus Christ
- Collaboration with Parents: the primary influencers of a student's spiritual, academic, emotional, and social development
- Gift of Time: balanced instructional schedule
- College Preparatory Academics: professional instructors and intentional curriculum
- Joy of Learning: education should not be rigid or dull, but full of life
- Created with Purpose: foster teachers' and students' unique gifts, talents and ideas
- Christ-Honoring Community: cultivate character, servant leadership, and compassion

University-Model® Schedule

Anchor Christian Academy follows an annual calendar similar to a university calendar. Classes start late in August and conclude in early May. Thanksgiving and spring breaks are each one week in length with an additional Easter break. There is a four week Christmas break from central classroom days. However, students devote two of those weeks to an extensive "Winter Term" project, crafted around a hands-on project of their choice and a research paper. The year culminates with overnight grade-level experiential learning trips in May.

The University-Model is a five-day academic program with students spending 2-3 "central days" in the school classroom and 2-3 "satellite days" in their home classroom. Both classrooms are under the supervision of a professional educator. Because the goal is to prepare students to become spiritually and academically independent, the University-Model provides a gradual transition from the home to the school.

During central classroom days, teachers provide direct instruction. Class sizes are small to foster individualized attention and to enhance learning opportunities. Teachers provide detailed instructions and guidelines for satellite days at home through an online platform that is easily accessed through the computer or cell phone. Satellite days are further enhanced through the use of carefully selected curriculum that is proven to work well with the University-Model program. Parents are also provided answer keys and teacher guides as needed. A parent or responsible adult is required to aide with instruction and monitor student progress on satellite days, but does not need to have teaching experience. As the level of parental involvement progresses from a guide (middle school) to course monitor (high school), parents are expected to continue exercising responsibility for their children through graduation. Consistent feedback is provided by teachers to students and parents regarding students' progress in each class.

In middle school, central day classes meet two days per week (Tuesdays and Thursdays). In addition, middle school students have the option of attending a third central day (Monday) for tutored study halls and electives. At the high school level, math, science, and foreign language classes meet three days per week at school (Monday, Tuesday, and Thursdays), while Bible, English, and social studies classes meet two days per week (Tuesday and Thursdays). Students in 11th and 12th grades are encouraged to take at least one college course through Lancaster Bible College's Jumpstart program. One class per semester is free (note that students must have minimum scores from the PSAT, SAT, ACT, or CLT).

To fully understand the philosophy and ambition of the University-Model program, the supervising adult or parent is required to read Character Driven College Preparation by John W. Turner, Jr. (2017 edition) before the start of school.

Community

Both parental involvement and student cooperation are essential if the academy is to successfully collaborate with parents to educate and biblically anchor students. Therefore, parents are required to actively participate in the school community by attending necessary meetings and training, committing to actively serve both in school and on a volunteer team, and obtaining and submitting all necessary clearance paperwork to ACA. We believe this parent, teacher, staff, and student connection to be an essential part of building a thriving school community.

Faculty

The faculty of Anchor Christian Academy are carefully selected, dedicated, born-again Christians from evangelical Christian backgrounds. All teachers whole-heartedly endorse the academy's Statement of Faith and the academy's focus on the teacher-mentor role. All faculty members hold at least bachelor's degrees and/or state teaching certification in the subject areas and grade levels they are teaching. Anchor Christian Academy prioritizes training and professional development of our teachers recognizing that they are vital to each student's success.

A la carte classes marked with an asterisk will only be held if a financially sustainable number of students (6) enroll by July 10.*

Beyond the Classroom

Numerous opportunities for spiritual growth, student leadership development, and enrichment opportunities are also available. Parent-run electives, student-run game time, and a spiritually-focused opening are built into the central day schedule. Monthly field trips are coordinated with the teachers to maximize the educational and/or character development benefit of each trip. Class trips are scheduled in May with further educational and community-building opportunities.

Student Conduct

The purpose of Anchor Christian Academy's Code of Conduct is to promote a Christ-like attitude in its learning environment and to encourage the development of positive Christian relationships among its students. Virtues of Christian character such as respect for others and for God, love, obedience, and service are strongly encouraged through the academy's character development program. Discipline concerns are brought to the parents' attention and principles of Christian communication and confidentiality are maintained in all circumstances.

Organizational Structure

Anchor Christian Academy is a developing member school with University-Model Schools International (UMSI) and a member of the Association of Christian Schools International (ACSI). Registration as a private school with the state of Pennsylvania is expected to be finalized by the start of the 2019-20 school year, enabling the Academy to issue state-recognized diplomas. This will also qualify students from public school districts within 10 miles (measured by the nearest public road) for transportation privileges from their home district. A parent-nominated board and culture of transparency are organizational priorities. Anchor Christian Academy also offers an option for homeschool students to enroll in their classes.

Partnerships

Anchor Christian Academy currently partners with Lancaster County Christian School to provide middle school team sports for our students. In addition, for the convenience of families with students enrolled in LCCS' elementary University-Model program, a school bus shuttle operates between ACA and LCCS' Leola campus in the morning and afternoon.

Anchor Christian Academy's statement of faith is adapted from the Association of Christian Schools International, is fundamental to historic Christian tenets, and contains those doctrines to which we unreservedly adhere and teach. Beyond these primary doctrines, Anchor Christian Academy respects and acknowledges that many secondary doctrinal questions exist among the true Body of Christ. We defer to parents and their local evangelical churches to instruct their children on these points and to clarify these issues. Although there will be healthy, edifying, educational discussions, there shall be no attempt made by parents, students, staff, or academy board members to promote or disparage any doctrinal or denominational beliefs, practices, or positions regarding issues upon which Anchor Christian Academy itself has assumed no official stance. We desire to remain united in the salvation and love of Christ, avoiding the dissention that may be caused by denominational distinctives.

1. We believe the Bible to be the inspired, the only infallible, authoritative, inerrant Word of God (2 Timothy 3:16, 2 Peter 1:21).
2. We believe there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit (Genesis 1:1, Matthew 28:19, John 10:30).
3. We believe in the deity of Christ (John 10:33), His virgin birth (Isaiah 7:14, Matthew 1:23, Luke 1:35), His sinless life (Hebrews 4: 15, 7:26), His miracles (John 2:11), His vicarious and atoning death (1 Corinthians 15:3, Ephesians 1:7, Hebrews 2:9), His Resurrection (John 11:25, 1 Corinthians 15:4), His Ascension to the right hand of God (Mark 16:19), and His personal return in power and glory (Acts 1:11, Revelation 19:11).
4. We believe in the absolute necessity of regeneration by the Holy Spirit for salvation because of the exceeding sinfulness of human nature, and that men are justified on the single ground of faith in the shed blood of Christ, and that only by God's grace and through faith alone are we saved (John 3:16–19, 5:24; Romans 3:23, 5:8–9; Ephesians 2:8–10; Titus 3:5).
5. We believe in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost; they that are saved unto the resurrection of life, and those that are lost unto the resurrection of condemnation (John 5:28–29).
6. We believe in the spiritual unity of believers in our Lord Jesus Christ (Romans 8:9, 1 Corinthians 12:12–13, Galatians 3:26–28).
7. We believe in the present ministry of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a godly life (Romans 8:13–14; 1 Corinthians 3:16, 6:19–20; Ephesians 4:30, 5:18).
8. We believe that the term marriage has only one meaning: the uniting of one man and one woman in a single, exclusive union, as delineated in Scripture (Genesis 2:18–25). We believe that God intends sexual intimacy to occur only between a man and a woman who are married to each other (1 Corinthians 6:18, 7:2–5; Hebrews 13:4). We believe that God's command is that there be no sexual intimacy outside of or apart from marriage between a man and a woman.
9. We believe that God wonderfully foreordained and immutably created each person as either male or female in conformity with their biological sex. These two distinct yet complementary genders together reflect the image and nature of God (Genesis 1:26–27).

Our Statement of Faith is not exhaustive of all of our beliefs. The Bible, as the inspired and infallible Word of God, speaks with absolute authority regarding the proper conduct of mankind and is the unchanging foundation for all belief and behavior. The ACA Board shall be the final authority in determining the purposes, values and practices within the purview of its educational mission, including all policies, curriculum, content, and disciplinary standards.

Anchor Christian Academy (ACA) is a developing University-Model® Christian academy. Both parental involvement and student cooperation are essential if the academy is to successfully collaborate with parents to educate and biblically anchor students. Therefore, as a condition of acceptance to this academy, the parents of each student applying for admission must agree with the academy's doctrinal position, mission, vision, and core values. Parent and student admission requirements facilitate the selection of those students appropriately suited for a University-Model school format.

Admission Requirements

- The supervising parent and student must be in agreement with ACA's Statement of Faith, and be regularly active in a local Christian church that is in keeping with ACA's Statement of Faith.
- The supervising parent and student must be in agreement with ACA's mission, vision, core values and Program Overview.
- Parents must abide by ACA's rules and regulations, along with all Pennsylvania religious school regulations.
- Parents must be committed to the parental responsibility for providing a quality, Christian education for their children in accordance with existing law and standards set by ACA.
- Parents must actively participate in their child's education. Specifically, parents should:
 - Ensure that one parent is present and available at least 3-4 hours during most satellite days. Even academically advanced students benefit from increased interaction with parents because parents are also influencing spiritual, emotional, and social development.
 - Monitor their child's academic progress, including timely submission and completion of all assignments.
 - Discuss with their child matters of belief, morality, and values in relation to the reading content of the courses.
 - Monitor their child's completion of all extended assignments to ensure that such assignments are paced appropriately and completed on schedule.
 - Be thoroughly familiar with syllabi and/or assignment sheets for all courses.
 - Provide access to a computer with reliable internet access in order to check satellite day assignments, and a printer for typed papers.
 - Read Character Driven College Preparation by John W. Turner, Jr. (2017 edition) before the start of school.
- Parents must actively participate in the school community. Specifically, parents should:
 - Check email on a daily basis.
 - Attend necessary meetings and trainings, including but not limited to the back-to-school meeting in August and the annual parent meeting in January or February.
 - Commit to a minimum of 10 monitoring shifts throughout the school year (these may include afternoon pick-up, gym time, lunch period, field trips, etc.).
 - Commit to serving on a volunteer team (this could include teaching an elective course for 7 weeks, assisting as a teacher's aide, organizing special events, fundraising, etc.).
 - Obtain and submit to ACA all necessary clearance paperwork.
- Students must agree to:
 - Abide by the Student Code of Conduct and all other ACA rules and regulations.
 - Show respect to adults. A title (Mr., Mrs., Miss, or Coach) should be used when addressing an adult.
 - Treat each other with respect, kindness, and compassion.
 - Regularly check online communication from teachers regarding their assignments and communicate with their parents regarding ACA-related items.
 - Come to class on time and prepared (with homework completed and with necessary materials).

Non-Discriminatory Policy

Anchor Christian Academy admits students of any gender, race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship programs, and athletic or any other school-administered programs.

Declined Admission

ACA processes all applications according to an admission policy, which exists, not to be exclusive, but to be inclusive of families who share the academy's vision, priorities, and educational philosophy. Anchor Christian Academy believes that as a developing UM academy both a unified vision and a constructive, Christ-centered relationship of mutual trust between the academy and an applicant's parents are essential to the accomplishment of the academy's mission. Each application is prayerfully and thoroughly considered with the best interest of applicants and current students in mind. Accordingly, ACA reserves the right to decline admission at any point in the application process if the Admission Team feels that the previously stated conditions are not currently met. Regardless of how families might react to a decision of admission, ACA is committed to giving prospective families the gift of honesty regarding our perception of compatibility.
